INTRODUCTION

When I first saw the parish register of Saint Paul's Parish over thirty years ago it was in a deplorable state of repair. The back had all but disappeared, the first dozen pages were completely loose and many pages had crumbled around the edges into the writing. In 1940 the John Lee and Lillian Thomas Pratt Foundation sponsored the restoration of this volume and it is now handsomely bound in black leather with gold lettering.

The book bears the business plate of the seller:

"DANIEL WELLES
Stationer
at the Crown & Scepters in great Eastcheap near Crooked Lane end, London
Makes and Sells all sorts of Merchants Ac compt Books, Shop Books, Pocket Books &c.
Likewise Sells all sorts of Writing & other Pa pers, Bills of Lading, Letter Cases & all other Sta tionary Wares wholesale & retale at reasonable rates"

The register begins in 1715 apparently in the handwriting of a parish clerk, and it appears there were several such clerks who were not polished penmen and who made multiple errors both in names and dates, until the Reverend David Stuart could no longer tolerate their haphazard manner. After an entry of the 6th of June 1725 he wrote:

"Note that several of the above children's names are wrong inserted as to the year of God, by reason of the carelessness of the Clerk, which occasioned my taking the Register into my own Care and Management.
David Stuart, Minister"

The Reverend David Stuart seems to have kept the register until the month of his death which took place on the 31st of January 1748/9, although as early as 1747 there are entries in the handwriting of his son the Reverend William Stuart (1723-1798).

The Reverend David Stuart was more systematic than the parish clerk whose manner of keeping the register he criticized, but neither he nor his son were beyond reproach in this duty. Both of these rectors made many errors in spelling both Christian and surnames as well as dates. Illiteracy was prevalent among their parishoners and it appears various names were recorded phonetically, not always the same way.

Both of the Reverend Mr. Stuarts were consistent, however, in spelling the surnames of the great landed families of their parish; neither errs in spelling Alexander, Ashton, Berry, Berryman, Buckner, Bunbury, Dade, Fitzhugh, Foote, Fowke, Gray, Hooe, Jones, Massey, Pratt, Scott, Seaton, Short, Stuart, Thornton and Washington. With many other surnames they were quite inconsistent and this fact has made it somewhat difficult to bring the register into the form I now present. A verbatim transcription would not have been as useful and that too would have presented its problems.

Inconsistencies are also found in certain Christian names: Alis, Ales and Alce for Alice; Helen, Helenor, Heleanor, Eleanor and Elinor are interchanged and it appears the Reverend David Stuart often wrote Hele(a)nor for Eleanor; and we are sometimes puzzled over Hester and Esther as well as Elizabeth and Eliza. Several of the leading families in the parish were descendants of Captain Robert Beheathland, who came to Jamestown with the first settlers of 1607, and the name was often used as a Christian name in these families, yet the register sometimes errs in the spelling of the name. It appears other families in the parish, not descendants of Captain Robert Beheathland, took a fancy to the name and also used it. Other obvious errors were Grice for Price; Garry for Parry (Perry); Parrett for Barrett &c. Likewise there are many inconsistencies in the dates; sometimes other more reliable contemporary records definitely show Saint Paul's Parish Register to be in error, while prima facia evidence in the register itself reveals obvious errors.

The Reverend David Stuart seems to have made entries soon after the recorded happenings in most instances, but at times there is evidence the Reverend William Stuart neglected the Register and attempted to transcribe into it, doubtless from another note book, that which should have been recorded several years previously. A careful study of the Register indicates that this practice led to confusion. Thus some doubt arises at times as to the precise year, date or name.

As examples of these alleged errors in the Register I wish to point out but a few:

1. The Register records the birth of Phillis Reilly as the 14th of November 1717, while her tombstone says she was born the 15th day of November 1717 and died the 4th day of April 1771, aged 54 years. She was the wife of Captain William Mountjoy (April 17, 1711 - September 27, 1777) of Overwharton Parish, Stafford County.
2. The Register records the death of Robert Taliaferro as the 6th of June 1726, while his tombstone at "Eagle's Nest" says:

"Here lies the body of
ROBERT TALIAFERRO son of Francis and Elizabeth
Taliaferro who Departed
this Life the 9th of May 1726 in the 28th year of his age."

3. The Register records the death of Elizabeth Walker as the 25th of August 1737, while her tombstone says:

"Here lies the Body of
Elizabeth Walker
wife of William Walker of Stafford
County and daughter of Henry Netherton,

INTRODUCTION

Gent: deceased, who departed this life
August 26, 1737 Etates 29."

The above inscription also shows the correct spelling of the surname of this lady; it will be noted that Reverend Mr. Stuart erred when he recorded their marriage in 1731. William Walker was an architect and his interesting will remains of record at Stafford County Court. The diary of the Reverend Robert Rose (1704-1751) of Essex County is enlightening concerning persons in Saint Paul's Parish as he married on the 6th of November 1740 Ann Fitzhugh (March 8, 1720/1 - April 18, 1789), daughter of Colonel Henry<sup>2</sup> Fitzhugh of "Bedford" and often visited in the parish. Reverend Mr. Rose recorded:

February 28, 1748/9: Left Essex, dined at Port Royal, bound Robert Bagge to Robert Walker, got to Capt. Fitzhugh's at night.
March 1, 1748/9: Left Capt. Fitzhugh's. Rain. Stopped at Mr. William Fitzhugh's ["Marmion"] and dined, returned to Mr. Walker's who had got home from Williamsburg where he had undertaken the Capitol for £2,600.
February 11, 1749/50: Went to Overwharton Church where I heard of Mr. William Walker's death which will, I hope, delay the building of the Capitol. Returned to Mr. John Fitzhugh's. Very cold.
February 15, 1749/50: Went to Mr. William Walker's funeral who was buried with his wife in one grave [at "Bedford"]. Very cold.

4. The Register records the death of Captain Samuel Bowman as July 14, 1742, while his tombstone at "Eagle's Nest" says:

"CAP<sup>T</sup>.
SAMUEL BOWMAN
OF WHITEHAVEN
Born the 10 June
1681
Died the 18 July 1742."

5. The Register records the birth of John Burkett Pratt as 6th of August 1761 while a contemporary recording in his parent's family Bible as well as his tombstone in the family cemetery at "Camden", Caroline County, Virginia, says he was born the 4th of September 1761, and died the 15th of January 1843. He dropped his middle name and married in 1784 Alice Fitzhugh (January 20, 1759-November 28, 1845), wealthy widow of Henry Dixon, Gentleman, of Port Royal, and daughter of John Fitzhugh (1727-1809) of "Bellaire", Stafford County, and Alice Thornton (1729-1790), his wife. The lineal descendants of John and Alice Pratt are yet in possession of "Camden."

On the other hand, it appears the Register is correct in recording the marriage of Benjamin Baber to Mildred Berry on the 10th of November 1791, while the King George County Marriage Register notes the license was issued the 11th of May 1790. Likewise Reverend William Stuart recorded he married on the 23rd of November 1791 Enoch Berry and Judith Fowke, while the King George County Marriage Register notes the license was issued the 11th of May 1790. It is impossible for me to say how these discrepancies came about, but it appears likely the recordings of the Reverend William Stuart in these instances are correct.

The alteration in the Calendar which took place in 1752 will explain other apparent discrepancies in the Register. For instance, the birth of William Fitzhugh of "Chatham" is recorded by the Reverend David Stuart as the 24th of August 1741 while a sampler made by his daughter and his tombstone inscription both record his birth as the 4th of September 1741; the former is the Old Style date and the latter is the New Style date. It appears some people quickly adopted the New Style or Gregorian Calendar, which was effective in England and her colonies in 1752, to reckon their birthdays and made the alteration at once while others clung to the Old Style or Julian Calendar. Among the latter was General George Washington who was born the 11th of February 1731/2 (Old Style) or the 22nd of February 1732 (New Style); it is said he always celebrated his birthday on the 11th of February. The Virginia Gazette of the 26th of February 1780 said: "Friday, the 11th instant, was celebrated at Fredericksburg the birthday of our illustrious Chief, General Washington." [This newspaper account gives considerable detail of the celebration at Fredericksburg, Virginia, where the General's mother lived.]

But now after all these years, these errors and discrepancies are trifling matters for the most part - slips of the pen and memory. We can but be forever grateful to those who left us Saint Paul's Parish Register, for indeed it fills a void as no other manuscript could possibly do considering the mutilated Stafford County court records and the loss of many other records in this area.

Roughly it may be said that the Register records marriages 1715-1796; births 1715-1775 with a few thereafter; and deaths 1715-1750 with a few thereafter of relatives of Parson Stuart and his death in 1798. The Reverend David Stuart usually recorded both birth and baptismal dates in full for whites and Negroes, but the Reverend William Stuart records only the birth dates. After the beginning of the Revolutionary War Parson Stuart virtually discontinued recording the births of both whites and Negroes and for the next twenty years his entries are almost entirely those of the marriages which he performed. After recording the death of his mother, Mrs. Jane (Gibbons) Stuart who died the 14th of January 1749/50, Reverend William Stuart ceases to systematically record the deaths in Saint Paul's Parish as had been the custom of his father for the twenty five years preceeding.

The abbreviations employed are the usual: B.(born); M.(married); D.(died).

This arrangement of Saint Paul's Parish Register is my own although it is fashioned after an arrangement made by my late friend, Major John Bailey Calvert Nicklin (1891-1949) of Chattanooga, Tennessee, who was for many years an ardent student of genealogy and many of the aristocratic families of Saint Paul's Parish commanded his attention. It is to him that I affectionately dedicate this volume.

Attention is directed to the fact that many families mentioned in the presently presented Saint Paul's Parish Register are also mentioned in the Overwharton Parish Register (1720-1760) which was published in 1899 by the late Reverend William F.Boogher, however, it must be noted that that publication is not without considerable error. That volume is long out of print and the present compiler has made a transcription of it preparatory to issuing it in a form similiar to the presently presented Saint Paul's Parish Register.

I am indebted to the Reverend Joseph S. Ewing, rector of South Farnham Parish, Essex County, Virginia, and to Ralph Happel, Esquire, historian, The National Park Service, for historical data which has not hitherto appeared in print. In ~~in~~ the historical sketch of Saint Paul's Parish which follows, Mister Ewing supplied the information relative to the Reverend William Stuart being minister of South Farnham Parish 1747-1749 and Mister Happel told me of the derivation of the name of Overwharton Parish. I have also drawn information from the published works of Bishop William Meade, George Maclaren Brydon, D.D., (Historiographer of the Diocese of Virginia), and George Carrington Mason (Historiographer of the Diocese of Southern Virginia).

I wish to thank the Vestry of Saint Paul's Parish for allowing me access to the original Register and also my many friends in the Parish and elsewhere for their encouragement in the preparation of this volume.

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

A Historical Sketch

The Parish of Saint Paul's took its name from the English parish in Bedfordshire, the birthplace of its leading Seventeenth Century citizen, Colonel William Fitzhugh (1651-1701), who came to Potomac River in 1670 and settled in Stafford County, calling his plantation "Bedford." The history of Saint Paul's Parish is inseparable from that of the Fitzhugh family; Fitzhugh influence through many successive generations is clearly traceable to the present day.

When Westmoreland County on the Potomac River was formed in 1653, the uppermost parish thereof was called Potomac and extended from the junction of Machodoc Creek with the Potomac River up the Potomac River to the falls and backward into the forest to include all that land which was drained by the great Potomac River. In 1664 Stafford County was formed and included all that region described above as Potomac Parish and shortly the various records indicate that Potomac Parish was divided into two parishes which were called "the upper Parish" and "the lower Parish" and the dividing line between them was and is Passapatanzy Creek. Probably by no official act but as time went on the upper parish came to be known as Stafford Parish and the lower parish as Chotank [Chotanck, Jotank &c] Parish, and they were so designated in 1680.

Henry Peyton, Gentleman, is described in a deed of 1680 as "of Chotancke Parish in the County of Stafford." Samuel Hayward, Gentleman, of Stafford County by his his last will and Testament dated the 3rd of April 1684 and proved the 11th of November 1696, bequeathed "unto y<sup>e</sup> Vestry of the Lower Parish of Stafford two thousand pounds of Tobacco and Cask to buy something that may be ornamentall to y<sup>e</sup> said Church." On the 15th of August 1693 Theodorick Bland, Surveyor of Stafford County, made a survey for Captain John Withers of "a tract of land lying in Stafford County in y<sup>e</sup> Parish of Chotank." It is thus seen that the lower parish of Stafford County, which was to be called Saint Paul's, was known during the last quarter of the Seventeenth Century as both "the Lower Parish" and as "Chotank Parish," taking its name from the largest creek in its limits yet called Chotank Creek and upon whose banks stood the ancient Indian town of Chotank.

Doctor Edward Maddox by his last will and Testament dated the 23rd of June 1694 describes himself as "of Stafford Parish, Stafford County, in the Colony of Virginia," and same was admitted to probate the 11th of December 1694. Doctor Maddox's only child, Amy Maddox, married without his approbation, Thomas Derrick causing the doctor to bequeath his plantation consisting of between 450 and 500 acres on Passapantanzy Creek as a Glebe for the Parish of Stafford. This act gave rise to a chancery suit more than a hundred years later by which the descendants of Mrs. Derrick attempted to recover this valuable tract of land after the dissolution of church properties by the Virginia General Assembly; in these papers it is stated that the Parish of Stafford mentioned by Doctor Maddox in his will was "later called Overwharton Parish." On the 14th of September 1698 William Downing is described in a deed as of "the Parish of Stafford in the County of Stafford" and all indications are that the upper parish of Stafford County [called Stafford Parish] and the lower parish of Stafford County [called Chotank Parish] did not officially come to be known as Overwharton Parish and Saint Paul's Parish, respectively, until shortly after 1700. The earliest recorded use of the names Saint Paul's Parish and Overwharton Parish appears to be in an official list of the Virginia parishes in 1702 and these names have survived to the present day.

Overwharton Parish derived its name from the English parish of Overwoorten in Oxfordshire where was born Colonel Henry Meese (16 - 1682) who settled in Stafford County on Potomac Creek calling his plantation "Overwarton." Colonel Meese returned to England where he died and his land above mentioned came into possession of the Reverend John Waugh (1630-1706), the fiery minister of the upper parish of Stafford County. He seems to have preferred to call the plantation "Overwharton" and thus the upper parish of Stafford County derived its name. It is an odd coincidence that the two parishes of Stafford County should derive their names through two men who were for years bitter political enemies - the Reverend John Waugh, a Whig, and Colonel William Fitzhugh, a Tory.

As no list has been found of the church wardens and vestrymen of Saint Paul's Parish when it first came into existence, I wish to cite the following records which show the prominent men of the county, some of whom were certainly of the vestry of their parishes. Those whose names are marked thus [#] were residents of Overwharton Parish and those whose names are marked thus [*] were residents of Saint Paul's Parish.

By a writing dated the 30th of September 1701 at Williamsburg, Colonel Francis Nicholson, Governor of Virginia, appointed the following gentlemen as a Commission of the Peace for Stafford County:

#George Mason	*Rice Hooe	#Joseph Sumner	*William Bunbury
*Robert Alexander	*Richard Fossaker	#John Waugh, Jr.	#John West
#Mathew Thompson	*John Washington	*Edward Hart	*Charles Ellis

The following gentlemen served at various times in 1702-1703 as Justices of Stafford County:

#Colonel George Mason	#Captain Joseph Sumner	#Mr. Mathew Thompson
*Lt. Col. Rice Hooe	*Captain Philip Alexander	*Mr. Richard Foote
*Captain Charles Ellis	*Captain Thomas Clifton	*Mr. William Bunbury
*Captain Richard Fossaker	#Captain John West	#Mr. Thomas Gregg

On the 13th of March 1703 the following gentlemen signed a Memorial to Her Majesty, Queen Anne, in regard to the death of her late brother-in-law King William:

*Robert Alexander	*William Bunbury	#John West	*William Fitzhugh
*John Washington	#Thomas Harrison	#John West, Jr.	*Benjamin Colclough
#Mathew Thompson	#George Mason	#John Peake	#George Anderson
#Giles Travers	#Moses Lynton	#G. Mason	*Thomas Lund
*Richard Fossaker	#Alexander Waugh	*Thomas Gilson	*Philip Alexander
	*Charles Ellis	*Edward Hart

In a list of the militia for the various counties of Virginia dated the 17th of June 1703, which was certified to Her Majesty, Queen Anne, the following field officers are named for Stafford County:

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

COLONEL: #George Mason
LT.COL.: *Rice Hooe
MAJOR : *William Fitzhugh

*Charles Ellis
#George Anderson
#John West
CAPTAINS: #Edward Mountjoy
#Thomas Harrison
*Richard Fossaker

In 1702 the clerk of Stafford County was Major William Fitzhugh of Saint Paul's Parish; the sheriff was Captain Charles Ellis of Saint Paul's Parish and the sub-sheriff was Captain George Anderson of Overwharton Parish.

After 1702 there are frequent references in the court records to both Overwharton Parish and Saint Paul's Parish, but perhaps the earliest two such references are to be found in two deeds now of record at Stafford Court, viz: by deed dated the 22nd of March 1704 Edward Hinson is described as of Overwharton Parish and by deed dated the 11th of October 1704 Thomas Kitching is described as of Saint Paul's Parish.

While the name Saint Paul's seems to have replaced Chotank as the official name of the lower parish of Stafford County about 1702 there were those long acquainted with the region who clung to the ancient name. Doctor Gustavus Brown (1689-1762) of Charles County, Maryland, on the 31st of May 1726 made a power of attorney to "my worthy and very good friend the Reverend David Stuart, Rector of Choetank Parish in the County of Stafford in the Colony of Virginia," authorizing him to collect various debts due to him in the said colony of Virginia. In a deed dated the 7th of April 1727 from Colonel Gerard Fowke (1662-1734) of Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland, to his son Captain Chandler Fowke (circa 1695-1745) of Overwharton Parish, Stafford County, for land on Passapatanzy Creek in Overwharton Parish, Stafford County, one of the bounds mentioned is the road which leads from "the plantation whereon John Mees now lives to Chotank Church." These references to Chotank Parish and Chotank Church indicate that although the name had been replaced by Saint Paul's twenty five years previously there were those who chose to use the former name. Even in this Century residents of Saint Paul's Parish have been referred to as Chotankers.

The bounds of the lower parish of Stafford County, called in succession Chotank Parish (ante 1680-1702) and Saint Paul's Parish (1702-1960), remained unaltered during the colonial period and included all that territory drained by the Potomac River between Machodoc Creek and Passapatanzy Creek. On the 3rd of April 1667 the Stafford County Court ordered "that the Minister preach in three particular places in this county, viz: at the Southwest side of Aquia, at the Court House, and at Choatank at the house belonging to Mr. Robert Townsend: to officiate every Sabbath day in one of these places until further order." The first two named places were in the upper parish of the newly formed county of Stafford while the house of Mr. Robert Townshend (1640-1675) stood upon his plantation, "Albion," and where his tombstone is yet to be seen. This land was patented the 7th of February 1650 by his mother, Mrs. Frances (Baldwin) Townshend, widow of Richard Townshend, Gentleman, and is described as 2,200 acres in Northumberland County lying upon the south side of Potomac River, on the east side of Chotank Creek and on the west side of Mattchotick [Machodoc] Neck and near Chotank Town. The estate fell into Westmoreland County upon its formation in 1653 and when Stafford County was severed from Westmoreland County in 1664, the land fell into that county.

From the services initiated at the house of Mr. Robert Townshend in Chotank some few years later the first church in the present parish of Saint Paul's was built on the "Bedford" estate of Colonel William Fitzhugh. The location which is traditionally pointed out for this first church is about a mile from the mouth of Chotank Creek and three miles east of the present church near the present post office of Owens.

In addition to the principal church of the parish on the "Bedford" estate there may have been a chapel or two conveniently located as Colonel Fitzhugh in a letter dated the 18th of May 1685 acknowledged a "generous gift to our Parish" made by Nicholas Hayward of London and refers to the parish's "paper-built temples" by which expression I opine the Colonel did not consider the construction of these houses of worship very sturdy. Nicholas Hayward was a brother of Samuel Hayward, Gentleman, Fitzhugh's neighbor and friend, who has been previously referred to as a benefactor of their parish church.

To a merchant correspondent in London, one John Cooper, Colonel Fitzhugh wrote in 1690, saying that his brother-in-law George Luke had not only undertaken to bring over from Christ's Hospital "an ingenious boy" educated in arithmetic to be a bookkeeper, but also had promised to find for the church at "Bedford". "an able, learned, serious and sober minister, whose allowance here would be large and comfortable." Colonel Fitzhugh desires that if Luke should fail in these commissions, Cooper is to attend to these matters and he is apt to point out that the Bishop of London would provide the minister with a travel allowance of £20 when he sets out for Virginia.

The loss of all the parish vestry books for the colonial period makes the historian's task difficult. County records, however, fill a few gaps. We note, for instance, that John Allen, a tailor, of Saint Paul's Parish, died there on the 14th of October 1725 and by his last will and Testament dated the 11th of October 1725 bequeathed his landed estate to the parish and further provided that four Negro slaves and the remainder of his personal estate (except certain specific legacies) should be disposed of by his executors to be "laid out in purchasing land and the perquisites of the said land so purchased to be allocated and set apart for the proper use and uses of the then minister of Saint Paul's Parish aforesaid and his successors forever and that the said Minister and his successors should receive the yearly annuity of the said land and pay yearly to a schoolmaster forever two thirds of the rents of the said land to teach such a number of poor children as the minister and vestry of the said parish can with him agree." John Allen appointed as executors of his will Colonel Henry Fitzhugh, Major John Fitzhugh and the Reverend David Stuart, and by deeds dated the 9th of March 1725/6 and the 11th of June 1728 they purchased land in Stafford County for the purposes mentioned in the will of their testator.

It appears likely that John Allen was an intimate friend of the Reverend David Stuart as to his son William Stuart, then not yet two years of age, he bequeathed three thousand pounds of tobacco.

Upon the lands bequeathed to the parish by John Allen the second church of

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

Saint Paul's was built. A frame building, it apparently stood near the present brick edifice. Since the Reverend David Stuart arrived in the parish about 1722 and seemingly gave new inspiration to the parishioners it is believed that the second church was erected shortly after 1725. Some strength is lent to this assumption by the gift of a very handsome flagon, chalice and paten which bear hall-marks indicating they were made in London in 1720 and thus engraved:

"Given by Henry Fitzhugh of Stafford County,
St. Paul's Parish, Gent: for ye use of ye Church"

These articles are yet in use at Saint Paul's Church and it is likely that they were presented shortly after the new church was occupied. The donor, Colonel Henry Fitzhugh (1686/7-1758), was the son of Colonel William Fitzhugh (1651-1701).

The church also has another handsome silver chalice which is engraved as follows:

"PRESENTED
TO
The Rev. William Friend
By
The Ladies of the Congregation of St. Paul's Church
King George C<sup>o</sup> Virginia

Other engraved brass memorial pieces furnish and adorn the alter, however these are all of the present Century.

Of the early ministers of Saint Paul's Parish we have no reliable account until the Reverend David Stuart took charge about 1722. We may infer that the Reverend Giles Rainsford preceeded him, since he is mentioned in the Bible record of Colonel Henry Fitzhugh of "Bedford." Fitzhugh's first child to be baptized was Ann Fitzhugh, who was born the 8th of March 1720/1 and her father records she was baptized by the Rev. Mr. Giles Ranceford [Rainsford]. Just following this entry is that of the birth of the Colonel's next child, Henry Fitzhugh, on the 18th of September 1723; we note that he was baptized by the Reverend Mr. David Stuart. It appears that all the other children of Colonel Henry Fitzhugh (1686/7-1758) of "Bedford" and his wife nee Susanna Cooke (1693-1749) were baptized by the Reverend David Stuart; thus it is obvious that Rainsford's tenure was of short duration. (For some years prior to 1719 the Reverend Mr. Rainsford had been rector of Saint Anne's Parish, Essex County, but about that time, for reasons not exactly clear, he had been replaced by the Reverend John Bagge, by the order of Colonel Alexander Spotswood (1676-1740), then Governor of Virginia. Though the vestry of Saint Anne's Parish protested the removal, they were forced to accept the Reverend John Bagge after the Governor directed a very heated letter to them. After his short term as minister at Saint Paul's Parish, the Reverend Mr. Rainsford removed to Maryland).

The Reverend David Stuart officiated as rector of Saint Paul's Parish from 1722 until the time of his death on the 31st of January 1748/9 after a short illness. He was followed in this charge by his eldest son the Reverend William Stuart and we are principally indebted to these two gentlemen for the entries in Saint Paul's Parish Register. They devoted their lives to their ecclesiastical duties and many of their descendants have through the years been devoted communicants of Saint Paul's Parish.

The Reverend David Stuart was born at Inverness, Scotland; he served under the Pretender, Prince James, in 1715 and fled to Virginia in that year. He went to England for Holy Orders and tradition has it returned to Virginia by way of Barbadoes, marrying there Jane Gibbons, daughter of William Gibbons, Esquire. Upon reaching Virginia he immediately took charge of Saint Paul's Parish where his eldest child, William Stuart, was born the 13th of December 1723. Reverend David Stuart acquired considerable landed estate in the counties of Stafford, Westmoreland, Fauquier, Fairfax and Prince William. This landed estate, together with a handsome personal estate, left his children in excellent financial situations and they married into prominent Virginia families.

It would seem that the new minister and his bride were not without acquaintances in Stafford County. Tradition has it that Mrs. Stuart was the younger sister of the wife of the Reverend Alexander Scott (1686-1738) who was minister of Overwharton Parish 1711-1738. This divine is known to have married Sarah (Gibbons) Brent (1693-1733), daughter of William Gibbons, Esquire, of Wiltshire, and widow of William Brent, Esquire, (circa 1677-1709) of "Richland" in Overwharton Parish, Stafford County, Virginia, by whom he had no issue. William Brent went to England to claim the estate of Stoke and Admington in Gloucestershire and married there the aforementioned Sarah Gibbons on the 12th of May 1709 and died on the 26th of November 1709 in Middlesex, England, leaving his wife enceinte, and their son William Brent (1710-1742) was born the 6th of March following his father's death. When he was seven, his widowed mother brought him to Stafford County to claim the vast estates to which he was entitled as the only surviving male heir of his great grand father Colonel Giles Brent of Maryland and Virginia. Sarah (Gibbons) Brent was married secondly on the 20th of May 1717 to the Reverend Alexander Scott, minister of Overwharton Parish, and their handsome tombstones now repose in Aquia Churchyard. The last mentioned William Brent (1710-1742) married Jane (surname unknown) and we find the births and baptisms of their two only children recorded in Saint Paul's Parish Register by the Reverend David Stuart. Doctor Richard Henry Stuart (1808-1889) of "Cedar Grove" was mindful of his kinship to the Brents of "Richland" when upon inquiry from his cousin, Mr. Robert T. Knox of Fredericksburg, Virginia, in 1877, he wrote him that this relationship came about by a sister of his great grandmother Stuart, nee Jane Gibbons, marrying "Mr. Brent of Richland." Thus we see that the Reverend Alexander Scott, rector of Overwharton Parish 1711-1738, and the Reverend David Stuart, rector of Saint Paul's Parish 1722-1749, were brothers-in-law, and as the former was the senior of the latter it may well be that the Reverend Alexander Scott was instrumental in the Reverend David Stuart being assigned to Saint Paul's Parish.

The Reverend William Stuart was educated at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg and subsequently studied theology in England where he was ordained and licensed for Virginia the 26th of September 1746. He received the King's Bounty on the 8th of October 1746 and returned to Virginia. He was assigned as minister of South Farnham Parish, Essex County, and held that charge 1747-1749. After th death of his father, the Reverend David Stuart on the 31st of January 1748/9, he came to Saint Paul's Parish. He was noted for his eloquence in the pulpit and for his popularity among his parishioners. Of him a granddaughter has written: "'Parson Stuart', as he was called, was held in high esteem. His pure, moral and religious character, high toned integrity, liberal education, and courteous genial deportment commanded the sincere regard and reverential respect of that gay, frolic loving but generous, noble hearted people."

Reverend William Stuart served Saint Paul's Parish until ill health forced him to resign in 1796. His letter of resignation is most touching:

"To the Vestry of St. Paul's Parish

"Gentlemen:

"I have been curate of this parish upward of forty years. My own conscience bears me witness, and I trust my parishioners (though many of them have fallen asleep) will also witness, that until age and infirmities disabled me I always, so far as my infirmities would allow, faithfully discharged my duties as a minister of the Gospel. It has given me many hours of anxious concern that the services of the Church should be so long discontinued on my account. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. I therefore entreat the favour of you to provide me a successor as soon as you can, that divine service may be discontinued no longer; and at the end of the year the glebe shall be given up to him by your affectionate servant,

William Stuart"

The vestry accepted the resignation of their beloved minister on the 19th of January 1797. The Reverend William Stuart died at his plantation "Cedar Grove" on the 1st of October 1798 "after a tedious confinement with the Gout" as is recorded in Saint Paul's Parish Register in the handwriting of his son, Richard Stuart, Esquire, (1770-1835), who succeeded him at that seat.

The Reverend William Stuart was married on the 26th of November 1750 to Sarah Foote who was born the 29th of January 1732/3, daughter of Richard Foote, Gentleman; he presented the young couple as a wedding gift that valuable estate lying between Chotank Creek and Potomac River called "Cedar Grove." The original Stuart residence was destroyed by fire shortly after the death of Richard Stuart (1770-1835) and the present brick mansion erected about 1840 by his son, Doctor Richard Henry Stuart (1808-1889), who resided there until his death.

Richard Stuart married on the 28th of July 1802 Mrs. Margaret (Robinson) McCarty (1780-1808), widow of Daniel McCarty of "Longwood," Westmoreland County, and daughter of William and Margaret (Williamson) Robinson, and thereby allied himself to families long established in the parish. Richard Stuart, by his said marriage, became the step-father of two little girls, left motherless at tender years to whom he was much attached, viz: (1) Anne Robinson McCarty, born the 28th of September 1798, who married Major Henry Lee of "Stratford"; and (2) Elizabeth McCarty, born the 9th of November 1800, mistress of "Stratford" for more than fifty years, who married Henry D. Storke of Leedstown, Westmoreland County. During the long term of Mrs. Storke's residence at "Stratford" and the Stuarts at "Cedar Grove," for whom she displayed much affection, there are preserved letters which give evidence of this long and amiable association. Upon her death in 1879 Mrs. Storke bequeathed "Stratford" to her two great nephews, Judge Charles E. Stuart and Dr. Richard H. Stuart, and in 1929 their heirs sold the estate to the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, Incorporated.

Doctor Richard Henry Stuart (1808-1889), only son of Richard and Margaret (Robinson) Stuart, married on the 7th of May 1833 at "Riversdale," Prince George's County, Maryland, Julia Calvert (1814-1888), daughter of George Calvert, Esquire, (1768-1838), builder of that elegant mansion which is now owned by The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission. George Calvert's sister Eleanor Calvert (1758-1811) married first in 1774 Colonel John Parke Custis (1755-1781), only son to survive infancy of Colonel Daniel Parke Custis (1711-1757) of New Kent County and his wife nee Martha Dandridge (1731-1802) who married secondly, in 1759, Colonel George Washington (1732-1799). The only son of Colonel John Parke and Eleanor (Calvert) Custis was George Washington Parke Custis (1781-1857), builder of "Arlington," who was a first cousin of the abovementioned Julia (Calvert) Stuart, and she was a bridesmaid on the 30th of April 1831 at "Arlington" when Mary Ann Randolph Custis (1808-1873), only child of George Washington Parke Custis (1781-1857) and his wife nee Mary Lee Fitzhugh (1788-1853) married Lieutenant Robert Edward Lee (1807-1870), son of General Henry Lee and his second wife Ann Hill Carter. Thus, Mrs. Stuart of "Cedar Grove" and Mrs. Lee of "Arlington" were descendants of the Honorable George Calvert (1579-1632), First Lord Baltimore, Proprietor of Maryland, and were intimate life-time friends. Furthermore Doctor Richard Henry Stuart's uncle, Doctor David Stuart (1753-1815) of "Hope Park," Fairfax County, Virginia, had married in 1783 the abovementioned Eleanor (Calvert) Custis, widow of Colonel John Parke Custis. Doctor David Stuart, one of the first three Commissioners of the District of Columbia, was a particular favorite of General Washington and mentioned in his last will and Testament.

The close kinship and association of the Custises and Lees of "Arlington" and the Stuarts of "Cedar Grove" is indicated by surviving documents. In 1855 Agnes Lee (1841-1873), daughter of General Robert E. Lee, wrote an account of a delightful visit to her cousins at "Cedar Grove" as well as other places in Saint Paul's Parish.

Doctor Richard Henry Stuart and his wife nee Julia Calvert left no surviving son; "Cedar Grove" passed to their daughter Rosalie Eugenia Stuart (1835-1915) who married her cousin Sholto Turberville Stuart (1821-1884). He was the son of Charles Calvert Stuart (1794-1846) of "Chantilly," Fairfax County, and his wife nee Cornelia Lee Turberville (1797-1883), and grandson of Doctor David Stuart and his wife nee Eleanor Custis, above mentioned.

Remembering his close kinship and association with the Stuarts of "Cedar Grove," Captain Robert Edward Lee (1843-1916), son of the great Southern Chief-tain, shortly after his second marriage to Juliet Carter, wrote his cousin Mrs. Sholto Turberville Stuart at "Cedar Grove" from his home in Washington, D.C., on the 2nd of October 1895, as follows:

....."If you would like to have us, my wife and I want to pay you a visit of a day or two this month.

"We are going to take a drive in a one horse buggy down through your country to visit Stratford and the other Lee places in the Northern Neck. We start from Ravensworth [the Fitzhugh - Lee estate in Fairfax County], go to Fredricksburg, stay there with Dan Lee a day or two and then make Cedar Grove and from there to Stratford, Chantilly, Lee Hall, Cobbs Hall, Ditchley, Corotoman, Sabine Hall &c. This is our plan now. As you know we can not always carry out these plans. What I want you to write me is whether it will be perfectly convenient for you to have us.

"We are very plain people and are coming to see you and Cedar Grove and all your children. I want to show my wife the place where I spent so many happy hours in my boyhood, and introduce her to the many sweet cousins. But we both know how different things are in Virginia now and want you to tell us whether it is perfectly convenient for you to have us."

Captain Lee had many pleasant memories of ante-bellum days in Saint Paul's Parish and, if his visit fell on a Sunday, doubtless attended divine services at Saint Paul's Church. The edifice of his time, still standing, took the place of the early Eighteenth Century frame structure.

It appears in 1762 the vestry of Saint Paul's Parish decided to replace the frame church and the Virginia Gazette of the 12th of February 1762 carried an advertisement requesting bids for the construction of "a commodious Brick Church in St. Paul's Parish, Stafford County." This was signed by John Stith and William Fitzhugh, church wardens. No further action appears to have been taken by the parish vestry until the 18th of July 1766 when the following more detailed notice appeared in the Virginia Gazette:

"To be Let to the lowest bidder on Friday, the 29th of August, The building of a Brick Church in Saint Paul's Parish, Stafford County, in the form of a Cross, of the following Dimensions, each wing to be 16 feet in clear of the length and 26 feet in breadth, 2 feet high to the water table and 24 to the ceiling, with three galleries.

"Any person inclining to undertake the same, are desired to meet at the Church of the said Parish at the time above mentioned. Five hundred pounds will be paid in hand, the undertaker giving Bond with sufficient security for the faithful performance of the said Building.

S. Washington)
W. Fitzhugh ) Church Wardens"

The above dimensions would produce a building in the form of a Greek cross, fifty eight by fifty eight feet in the clear (i.e., inside the upper walls), and the presently existing Saint Paul's Church is practically identical with these specifications except that the wings of the edifice are about three inches narrower than specified. The upper walls of the present building are about two feet thick and are laid in Flemish bond without glazed headers.

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

In accordance with the prevailing style in Virginia church architecture at the time Saint Paul's Church was built, the existing building has two tiers of windows, the upper row serving to give light and air to the three galleries which occupied all the wings of the church except the east one, in which the chancel was located. A central doorway, evidently of classic pedimented type, was provided at the west end of the nave and a similiar one at each end of the north-and-south transept. The roof is hipped at the end of each wing, but the original location of the pulpit is not known.

The Reverend William Stuart must have been very proud of the new brick church and presented a large and handsomely bound Bible which yet rests on the high pulpit. It was restored a few years ago by the donor's great-great-granddaughter, Mrs. Benjamin Custis Grymes (nee Rosalie Stuart). The Bible was printed in 1762 by Joseph Bentham, printer to the University of Cambridge, and "Sold by Benjamin Dod, Bookseller, at the Bible & Key in Ave - Mary Lane, near St. Paul's, London." The original binding is embellish in gold lettering on the front:

"GIVEN FOR THE USE OF THE CHURCH IN
ST. PAUL'S PARISH
BY THE REV.<sup>d</sup> WILLIAM
STUART, RECTOR OF
THE SAID PARISH
1769"

Shortly after the new brick church was completed George Washington twice attended divine services at Saint Paul's Church; he enters the dates in his diary as the 29th of May 1768 and the 4th of September 1768. He was visiting his brother Colonel Samuel Washington (1734-1781), a vestryman in Saint Paul's Parish. Samuel Washington lived on an estate inherited from his father, Captain Augustine Washington (1694-1743), and had many relatives there. Captain Augustine Washington, left an orphan by the deaths of his parents, was raised in Saint Paul's Parish by his paternal relatives; when but three years of age he received a legacy from his great-aunt Madam Martha (Washington) Hayward (circa 1643-1697), widow of Samuel Hayward, Gentleman, who with his brother Mr. Nicholas Hayward of London, have been previously mentioned as benefactors of Chotank Parish. Colonel Samuel Washington sold his estate in Saint Paul's Parish about 1770 to Colonel Henry Fitzhugh of "Bedford" and moved to "Harewood," Jefferson County, now West Virginia, where he died. George Washington often visited his relatives in Saint Paul's Parish before and after his brother's residence there; as a boy he was presumably visiting his relatives "in the Chotank" when his father was taken ill at the family home, "Ferry Farm," and a messenger was dispatched to bring him home. The earliest known examples of George Washington's boyish signature appear on the title page of a volume that once belonged to Captain Samuel Bowman (1681-1742), mariner, whose handsome tombstone is in the cemetery at "Eagle's Nest," the estate long in the possession of Colonel William Fitzhugh (1651-1701) and the descendants of his eldest son Colonel William Fitzhugh (circa 1677-1713). Here too is the crumbling tomb of the latter's wife, nee Ann Lee (1683-1731/2), daughter of the Honorable Richard Lee, who married secondly Captain Daniel McCarty (1679-1724) of Cople Parish, Westmoreland County. The death of Madam Ann (Lee) Fitzhugh McCarty is recorded in Saint Paul's Parish Register.

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

Recalling his long and amiable association among his cousins in Saint Paul's Parish, General Washington by his last will and Testament bequeathed "to the acquaintances and friends of my juvenile years, Lawrence Washington and Robert Washington, of Chotank, two gold headed canes, having my Arms engraved upon them and to each a spyglass as they will be useful where they live." These men, Lawrence Washington (1728-circa 1814) of "Waterloo" and Robert Washington (1730-circa 1800) of "Woodstock" both in Saint Paul's Parish, were distant cousins of General Washington (1732-1799) and survived him. The gold headed cane and spyglass bequeathed to Lawrence Washington are now at "Mount Vernon," while the spyglass bequeathed to Robert Washington is believed to be identical with the one engraved by its maker "J. Gilbert, Tower Hill, London," and now in possession of descendants of the Washington family in Saint Paul's Parish.

After the death of the Reverend William Stuart in 1798, the early part of the Nineteenth Century witnessed a general decline of Episcopatism throughout Virginia. Many of its handsome colonial churches fell to decay. Saint Paul's was saved, at least in basic architecture, by conversion to a county academy in 1813. The colonial interior, however, suffered severely. All woodwork was torn out; various partitions were installed, as well as a second floor; the north and west entrance doorways were closed with brickwork, and other alterations made to suit its new use. The academy proved unsuccessful. Happily, a petition to the state legislature restored the building to the parish in 1831 and the structure was again consecrated as Saint Paul's Church by Bishop Richard Channing Moore on the 15th of May 1831. Unfortunately, in the remodelling which took place at this time, no attempt was made to restore the colonial arrangement of the building.

Though the old church stands as a monument to colonial days, the parish of Saint Paul's was destined to become a part of another county when the church was yet new, and at the same time its bounds, which had remained unaltered during the colonial period, were to be enlarged.

Various petitions were received by the House of Burgesses beginning in 1769 "for a new modelling of the counties of Richmond, Westmoreland, King George and Stafford." Finally on the 3rd of June 1775 the House of Burgesses ordered "that leave be given to bring in a bill for altering and establishing the boundries of the counties of King George and Stafford and Mr. Jones, Mr. Fitzhugh, and Mr. Charles Carter of Stafford, do prepare and bring in the same." The Honorable Joseph Jones (1727-1805) of "Spring Hill" and the Honorable William Fitzhugh of "Chatham" represented King George County, while Colonel Charles Carter (1733-1796) of "Ludlow" represented Stafford County. Judge Joseph Jones presented the bill to the House and the Council shortly concurred but before the bill was signed, the Honorable John Murray, Earl of Dunmore, lieutenant governor of Virginia, fled from Williamsburg and took refuge on a British man-of-war and the Royal Government in Virginia was dissolved; the Revolution had begun. However, on the 15th of October 1776 the bill was again presented to the legislators assembled at Williamsburg and that assembly ordered extensive alterations in the boundries of King George and Stafford counties to be effective the 1st of January 1777.

Since the formation of Stafford and King George counties the upper or western section of the Northern Neck peninsula had been about equally divided between the westward extensions of Westmoreland County on the Potomac River and Richmond County on the Rappahannock River. Thus the counties of Stafford [formed from Westmoreland County in 1664] and King George [formed from Richmond County in 1721] were long and narrow and were divided by the natural ridge of the Northern Neck, that is to say, that territory which was drained by the Potomac River was Stafford County and that territory which was drained by the Rappahannock River was King George County. A more convenient division of Stafford and King George counties was effected by the Act of 1776. This directed that the two counties be divided about the middle across the Northern Neck peninsula, beginning at the mouth of Muddy Creek on the Rappahannock River and following it upstream to its headwaters near where present Route 218 crosses it and thence in a straight line [which presently divides the farms of Mrs. Thomas Benton Gayle, Senior, and her son Robert L. Gayle] to the head spring of Whipsewasin [Whipewaughson] Creek, and thence down the meanders of the said creek to its junction with Potomac Creek and thence down this creek to Potomac River.

By this approximately North-South division of the two counties, the lower portion of Stafford County along the Potomac River was given to King George County and the upper portion of King George County along the Rappahannock River was given to Stafford County. The entire bounds of colonial Saint Paul's Parish fell into King George County.

So, during the first three score years the records in the Register of Saint Paul's Parish pertain mostly to residents of Stafford County; for the last score mostly to residents of King George County. Thus the court records of both counties must be consulted by anyone attempting to trace families domiciled in Saint Paul's Parish. The Westmoreland County court records are oftentimes helpful.

Because of the meanderings of Machodoc Creek, the colonial southern boundry of Saint Paul's Parish, the neck of land north of Rosier's Creek [called Machodoc Neck], which was during the colonial period in Washington Parish, Westmoreland County, jutted far into Saint Paul's Parish and a neck of land in lower Saint Paul's Parish [commonly called Pumpkin Neck] jutted into Washington Parish. Across Machodoc Creek was constantly kept "the Little Ferry" and thus there was considerable intercourse between families residing in Saint Paul's Parish and upper Washington Parish and we find quite a few entries in Saint Paul's Parish Register concerning inhabitants of Washington Parish.

By another alteration in county boundry lines, that portion of Washington Parish, Westmoreland County, north of Rosier's Creek was added to King George County in 1779, and thus Machodoc Neck and adjacent lands became a part of Saint Paul's Parish, King George County. Washington Parish was without a regular minister from the beginning of the Revolutionary War until many years thereafter; since the Reverend William Stuart was nearby it is natural enough to find many people in the area between Machodoc and Rosier's Creek included in his entries of marriages in Saint Paul's Parish Register.

About the time the Reverend David Stuart became minister of Saint Paul's Parish, "Round Hill," the upper church of Washington Parish was rebuilt of brick and completed in 1722. It stood not far from the present post office of Tetotum and near the gate to the "Spy Hill" estate. The Reverend Roderick McCulloch, rector of Washington Parish during 1731-1745, is said to have baptized the infant George Washington on the 5th of April 1732. Reverend David Stuart officiated at the marriage of the Reverend Mr. McCulloch on the 17th of February 1734/5 to Elizabeth Weedon. The Reverend William Stuart married the next known minister of Washington Parish, the Reverend Mr. Archibald Campbell, to his first wife Rebecca Rallings on the 15th of January 1753. Reverend Archibald Campbell was rector of Washington Parish 1745-1775; the massive tombstone of his first wife is the sole remaining object on the site of pre-Revolutionary Round Hill Episcopal Church. The tomb reads:

SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

"Here is buried
Mrs. Rebeckah Campbell wife of
Reverend Mr. Archibald Campbell
Minister of Washington Parish.
She died the XXI of March MDCCLIV in the XX year of her age.
Here also lies Alexander, their child".

The interrelations of Saint Paul's, Overwharton and Washington parishes fascinate the genealogist and tell the general student a great deal about colonial life. It would be a source of greater instruction if complete records of all the parishes and counties existed. It is indeed fortunate that the Register of Saint Paul's Parish exists and has been scientifically preserved; it does much to advance our knowledge of persons in all three parishes.

A study of Saint Paul's Parish Register shows that both the Reverend David Stuart and the Reverend William Stuart married many parties who were not residents of their parish; among these were Thomas Chancellor and Katherine Cooper, daughter of Doctor John Cooper, all of Washington Parish, Westmoreland County, who were married by the Reverend David Stuart on the 3rd of March 1723/4. They were the great-great-great-great-great-grandparents of this compiler. The discovery of that entry spurred my genealogical interest when I was yet in my 'teens, and the Register's then crumbling pages yielded other data of great genealogical interest to me. My hope is that others, through the arrangement here presented, will find items of interest - and if they do, it will be with considerable less effort than it has been for me.

And now as I write on the porch of my summer cottage in Saint Paul's Parish, my eyes wander out over the placid waters of the Potomac River and I reflect upon that spring day in June 1608 when Captain John Smith and a little band of explorers sailed by the great forests which then covered these banks. Up the Potomac a bit from my cottage I can see the mouth of Passapatanzy Creek and beyond the bays formed by Potomac Creek and Aquia Creek emptying their waters into the big estuary. At the conflux of Potomac Creek and Potomac River is Marlborough Point, site of the King of Potomac's tribal capital, which was visited some years after Captain Smith's exploration by the Indian Princess Pocahontas and my ancestor Captain Raleigh Croshaw, Gentleman, who came to Jamestown in the Second Supply the latter part of September 1608. Here the Potomac makes almost a right angle turn to the northward and at night, at a distance of about ten miles, we can see the lights of the Marine Corps Base at Quantico, Virginia, and beyond the haze cast by the lights of the City of Washington. Down the river lie the plantations of the Washingtons, the Lees, the Monroes and many other founders of this now vast nation. From Jamestown westward, through Saint Paul's Parish and beyond, the founding fathers brought with them the word of God and the ideals of Anglo-Saxon liberty.

VESTRYMEN OF SAINT PAUL'S PARISH

1720 - 1857

The Eighteenth Century vestry books of Saint Paul's Parish have been lost. It appears, however, that Bishop William Meade (1789-1862) author of Old Churches, Ministers and Families of Virginia (1857) had access to certain records not now available and he gives a list of vestryman from the year 1720 to the present time in his above cited work [Volume II, page 192], which is as follows:

Richard Bernard, John Hooe, Richard Foote, Captain John Alexander, Captain Baldwin Dade, Colonel Henry Fitzhugh, Jerard [Gerard] Fowke, John Stith, Cadwalader Dade, John Stewart [Stuart], John Alexander, Jr., Francis Thornton, John Washington, Thomas Pratt, Thomas Bunbury, (Thomas Stribling, reader,), Henry Fitzhugh, Jr., William Fitzhugh, William Fitzhugh, Jr.,<sup>1</sup> Samuel Washington<sup>2</sup>, Laurence Washington, Townsend Dade, in the place of Samuel Washington, who removed in 1770; John Berryman, in 1771, in place of William Fitzhugh<sup>1</sup>, who removed out of the county; Robert Washington, Andrew Grant, Robert Stith, W.G. Stuart, William Hooe, Daniel Fitzhugh, William Thornton, William Stith, Henry Fitzhugh, Robert Yates, William Storke, William Quarles, Thomas Short, Benjamin Grymes, Thomas Washington, Rice W. Hooe, John B. Fitzhugh, John Waugh, Langhorne Dade, William Stone, Henry A. Ashton, Charles Stuart, J.K. Washington, Abraham B. Hooe, J.J. Stuart, William F. Grymes, Charles Massey, J. Quesenbury, Robert Chesley, Needam Washington, Alexander Keech, Francis C. Fitzhugh, B.O. Tayloe, Thomas Smith, Dr. Robert Parsons, Gustavus B. Alexander, Henry Maustin, Hezekiah Potts, T.L. Lomax, Jacob W. Stuart, Henry T. Washington, Drury B. Fitzhugh, Benjamin R. Grymes, John T. Washington, W.E. Stuart, M. Tenent.

Bishop Meade states that the earlier part of his mother's life was spent in Saint Paul's Parish under the ministry of the Reverend William Stuart and he has often heard her "speak in high praise of him." His mother, nee Mary Grymes (November 9, 1753 - June 16, 1813), was the only daughter of Benjamin Grymes, Senior, Esquire, and his first wife Betty Fitzhugh, daughter of Colonel Henry Fitzhugh (circa 1706-1742) of "Eagle's Nest" and Lucy Carter, his wife. She was married, first on the 18th of May 1770 in Saint Paul's Parish by the Reverend William Stuart, to William Randolph, and secondly on the 10th of December 1780 to General Richard Kidder Meade (July 14, 1746 - February 9, 1805) of "Lucky Hit," Clark County, Va., and Bishop Meade was one of their several children. He was, therefore, closely connected to Saint Paul's Parish and has left us an excellent account in his above cited work.

- 1 - Note the differentiation between William Fitzhugh (1725-1791) of "Marmion" and his younger cousin William Fitzhugh (1741-1809) who is called "junior" while they both resided in Saint Paul's Parish. Though he retained possession of his estates "Eagle's Nest" and "Somerset" in Saint Paul's Parish his entire life, after building "Chatham" about 1769, William Fitzhugh [Jr.] lived there and was consequently replaced on the vestry as the above record indicates.
- 2 - Colonel Samuel Washington (1734-1781) removed to Jefferson County, Virginia.
