Preface

Orange County at the time of its creating embraced all of the land from the Rappahannock River, beginning at its fork, across to the Blue Ridge, down the Valley and west to include all of West Virginia and Kentucky. It was erected by Act of the General Assembly in 1734 from the upper portion of Spotsylvania County (which was created in 1720 from the northern portions of Essex, King and Queen and King William counties) and was originally coterminate with Saint Mark's Parish which had been formed three years earlier.

During the whole of the period covered by Will Book I, these bounds were not changed. There were still no settlers in the more westerly portions of this vast area, but many of the testators named herein were residents of what shortly became Augusta and Frederick counties. The Act creating these two counties was passed in 1738 but it contained a provision that no courts were to be held until there was a sufficient population. The Court of Frederick County was organized in 1743 and that of Augusta in 1745.

After 1745 Orange County included the present counties of Culpeper, Madison, Rappahannock and Greene. In 1749 the first three of these were cut off, leaving only the present territory of Orange and Greene. Orange reached its present size with the creation of Greene County in 1838.

Saint Thomas' Parish was formed from Saint Mark's in 1740. In general, its area was south of the Rapidan and the residents of the parish remained in Orange County after 1749.

Orange is fortunate in having the great majority of its records from the beginning of the county. Not only have the record books been preserved, but also there are many of the original loose papers still on file at the Court House. Mr. George H. S. King has kindly submitted a clarification of one will in this volume based upon his examination of the original which has been preserved.

W. W. Scott's A History of Orange County, Virginia (Richmond: 1907) is the only extensive volume relating to the county but much has appeared in print about its history and families.

The clerk of Orange County during the period from 1735 until July 1740 was Henry Willis. Beginning in September 1740 Jonathan Gibson signed the records as clerk.

Whenever a mark rather than a signature was affixed to a document, the mark has been placed in parenthesis. An "X" has been used to indicate not only that symbol but also a cross or any other symbol which cannot be reproduced on a typewriter.

The names have been indexed under the form considered most logical by the compiler or the one most frequently used in this volume. Cross references have been provided. The numbers of the pages upon which a person's will appears have been underlined.

Peter Evans, Register General for the Probate of Wills and Granting Letters of Administration in and for the Province of Pennsylvania and the Counties of New Castle, Kent and Sussex in Delaware, certifies the will of John Caspar Stover, 20
March 1738 [1739]:

Since the Great God hath determined an end for all mankind
although the manner and hour thereof by none is foreknown, yet he sendeth sometimes messengers of sickness, which I also have experienced on my sea voyage from England to Pennsylvania and thence to Virginia.

I have to set in order two great house affairs both concerning the house of God as my own family. I will therefore begin on the chiefest as the Lord's house.

The articles of agreement with my congregation and the certificate from the Governour to his Britannick Majesty of Williamsburgh testifies of whom I depend and what I and my companions after the finishing of the collections on such long and very dangerous journey for our faithful sincerity should enjoy.

Michael Holdt hath truly accompanied us unto Danzig, but what wicked knaveries he hath raised there agt. us and what damage in our collecting affairs by the ministry in London on his return he hath caused cannot well be restituted unto these Congregation with 400 pistoles, Yea how through him and his wicked mouth that blessed institutum when a well learned man, Master George Samuel Klug by the heart bending grace of God hath fully resolved and in Elbringen as a second minister of this congregation the calling accepted and further in Danzig the confirmation received for whose maintenance in his journey from there to London we have paid 400 Elbringish 200 or Dutch Florens according to the currency in the Empire and for reason of the many recommendations from a great many high Lords both spiritual and temporal, as from other great merchants our full and abundant confidence was further confirmed, that the great God would prosper our collections so far that constantly two ministers without the least charges to the congregation could been maintained and likewise a church and other unto the worship of God necessary buildings could been erected.

Now my beloved son John Caspar Stover, minister in Conastoken, unto thee and Michael Shmidt I do give the full power to do thy earnest endeavour for the estate of this church and especially the well ordering of divine service. And if these beloved congregation should call thee for their minister in my place thou ought to accept of it.

As soon as thou hearest anything of Michael Shmidt go to Philadelphia and assist him as good as possibly to bring unto thine house him, his and mine goods and two other families going along to Virginia. These done send directly an express messenger for the three remaining Churchwardens to come speedily to hear the general letters of attorney which thee has received, likewise the account of mine and Michael Shmits concerning the whole collection according to the memorials set down in the collection books as also in other letters not inserted into the collection books, and also especially in a small Hamburger Almanack wherein I have set down many great and small sums in the Lattine tongue.

Send also letters along to my wife and children because thee hast likewise full orders what thee should'st distribute for a patrimony to her self and to all my children that they may come together with the Churchwardens.

I did send from Hamburgh unto John Henning Carstens of London a great chest of books.

We have also got a great many more books as gifts from the booksellers in Leipzig, and Strasburg, but since they was of no service to the congregation we have changed them with a bookseller in Frankfort for 200 Frankforter handbooks which I and Michael Shmidt got bound for the congregation. The others which we have got at Strasburg we have changed in Dearnstedt for long books with great letters.

I and Michael Shmidt bought in Plymouth hundred pieces of cut window glass.

Further observe as much as in thy power lyeth this congregation and her true best. Write on her behalf unto Master Fresenium the minister of Prince Darmstatts Court and desire him to send in case of necessity a new minister over here.

As touching my beloved wife it shall be given to her all what she has on cattle, horses, swines and all other living creatures, all household stuff, bedding, pewter, copper, iron, linnen, in short she shall give to no body any account in the least of these things, notwithstanding these condition when she during my absence had behaved herself as an honest woman ought to have done, that both my office and honour with her scandalous tongue, not hath blamed or slandered and therewith great offence given In such like case shall all from the greatest even unto the smallest even unto the clothes of her body be snatched away from her and shall be added to the gift bequeathed by me to the children.

But those out of the second wedlock shall receive nothing into their hands untill they have reached their respective ages. Thou my dear son shall observe them heartily for their education both in Christianity as their livelyhood from their money which thou hast in possession.

Unto my wife Jane one third part of all my lands within this colony during her natural life to be taken out of that tract or plantation I now live upon.

To my sons Robert and Isiah the remainder of all that tract or parcell of land patined for eight hundred and fifty acres (where John Steavenson now lives) when Terrence Kellys part is laid of and taken from it according to agreement. The improved end of said land to my son Robert, the other to Isiah.

Whereas I have an additional survey made joyning to the foresaid tract lying down the run called hoggs run and return made to the office but the pattin not yet come out nor at present am I certain of the quantity, I therefore hereby give unto my daughter Margaret three hundred acres to be taken of the lower end thereof on the foresaid run and the remainder of the said additional survey to my sons Robert and Isiah.

I give and appoint my son Richard Calvert the remainder of my home tract of land (when his mother's part is first taken off) to live upon during his said mother's lifetime and at her decease I give unto my two youngest daughters Rebecca and Ann Colvert each two hundred acres of land to be taken and laid of my said home plantation at the lower end thereof out of what is before appointed to my son Richard Colvert, my present dwelling house and the remains of the said nine hundred and ninety two acres thereto belonging to him after the death of his mother.

Unto my wife Jane my young bay mare.

Unto my son Robert the young gre horse called Wanton.

To my son Isiah his choice of the two young horse colts now going with my gree and bay mayers. The other of my said colts to my son Richard.

Unto my neece Elizabeth Corey one brindled calf, also another young cow with calf and a bay horse colt coming two years old.

To my three daughters Margaret, Rebecca and Ann a bay mare with a star in her forehead.

All the rest, residue and remains of my estate real and personal to be equally divided to my wife and six children.

Pages 131-37. Will of Alexander Spotswood of the County of Orange in Virginia, Esqr., being now going upon an expedition, dated 19 April 1740.

All my lands and hereditaments in Virginia to my eldest son John and the heirs males of his body and in default thereof to my son Robert. And together with and annexed to my said lands and to descend therewith all my working Negroes and slaves and their encrease which shall be employed or used in labour. My executors make a list or roll of all my said Negros with their names and ages and upon what lands or plantations they were resident at the time of my decease and procure such list or roll to be recorded in the Court of the county where the lands lie.

Lest my lands herein bequeathed to my said sons should during the minority of either of them lie uncultivated or unimproved, my executors may let or lease any of my said lands (except my tract of land lying in Spotsylvania County containing by estimation fifteen thousand acres and commonly called the mine tract) for such terms for years or for life or lives as I myself have heretofore at any time leased any of my said lands in the Spotsylvania tract lying in Orange County.

Whereas the tract of land called the mine tract is by me set apart and appropriated for the carrying on an iron work and it is necessary that at least eighty able working slaves with twenty children belonging to them should be annexed to the said land and employed in the said work, in case there should not be so many thereon at the time of my decease, my exrs. do take from any other of my plantations so many slaves as shall make up that number. All and all the stocks of cattle, horses, hoggs and other living creatures, and all waggons, carts, and carriages whatsoever, with all implements of husbandry and handicraft and all household furniture upon the said mine tract shall continue thereon until my said son John shall attain unto the age of twenty one years.

Whereas some proposals have been by me made under my hand for the leasing for twenty one years of my said mine tract with the iron work thereon and a certain number of Negros, oxen and other cattle, with all the teams, tools and implements, I authorize my exrs. to lease the same upon the terms and conditions therein proposed.

To my son Robert the sum of three thousand pounds sterling at the age of twenty one and to be raised by mortgage or sale of my lands herein before devised (my mine tract excepted).

To my daughter Anna Catharina the sum of two thousand pounds sterling at her age of twenty one years or day of marriage.

To my daughter Dorothea the sum of two thousand pounds at her age of twenty one years or day of marriage.

In case my son John should die without issue whereby my said lands will come to my son Robert then the sums to be paid my said daughters shall be increased in case they shall not then be married unto the sum of two thousand five hundred pounds sterling to each of them.

In case either of my said sons shall have a daughter or daughters such son to whom my estate shall come by this my will shall have full power notwithstanding the intail thereof to charge all or any part of my said lands with a portion or portions for such his daughter or daughters provided the same do not exceed the sum of one thousand pounds sterling in case of his having only one daughter and in case of two or more two thousand pounds sterling.

To my exrs. my two cabinets of plate weighing one thousand and eighty nine ounces and four penny weight of silver according to an inventory thereof taken and signed by me on 23 March 1731/2 upon this special trust and confidence that they permit my beloved wife to have the use thereof during her natural life and after her decease to go to my son John, in case of his death to my son Robert, always desiring that the said cabinets of plate may descend and continue as heirlooms in my family.

To my cousin Elliott Benger and Dorothea his wife for an during their lives and the longer liver of them two hundred acres of land which he or she shall choose out of my tract of fifteen hundred acres at Masseponnix Creek, except Peter Johnson's tenement there.

To my cousin Elliott Benger during his natural life six plantation slaves to be chosen by my other two executors, and after his death to be equally divided between his present wife and surviving children.

To the said Elliott Benger twenty head of cattle.

To my Godson Alexr. Grame the son of my cousin John Grame of William and Mary Colledge the sum of twenty pounds.

To the Colledge of Wm. and Mary in Virginia all my books, maps and mathematical instruments as an acknowledgement of the courteous reception I have met with here in Brafferton House and of the Civilities I have received from the Masters of the said College.

The rest and residue of my estate to be equally divided between my beloved wife and my four children but in case any shall die before age of twenty one years, the part of such child as shall first die to my said cousin Elliott Benger for the use and benefit of him and his present wife and children.

My well beloved wife Buttler, Elliott Benger and Robert Rose of Essex County, Clerk, executors. My well beloved wife to be guardian of my children.
